

Deny Union Dues Being Held By Packing Houses; Union Head Coming Here

Manager of Okanagan Packers Co-op Union Says Funds Not Being Held in Trust Pending Dispute—Daniel O'Brien Will Discuss Controversy with Local Union Officials—Labor Negotiating Committee Has No Doubt as to Legality of Agreement Made With Bargaining Agents—Find No Discontent or Objection Among Employees

THERE is no truth to the statement that the Okanagan Packers Co-op Union is holding employees' union dues in trust pending the settlement of the union dispute between the United Packinghouse Workers of America and the newly formed Okanagan Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union, J. M. Brydon, manager of the firm, stated this morning. Previously the local radio station, and a report in the Vancouver Sun, stated that the dues are being held in trust by the packing house pending settlement of the dispute.

William Sands, valley representative of the fruit and vegetable union, also confirmed this fact. "The dues are still coming through," he declared, "and to my knowledge no packing house in the Valley is holding the money back."

Osoyoos to Salmon Arm reveals no discontent or objection among employees to the check-off except in Kelowna. The Kelowna branch of the U.P.W.A., according to word received Thursday morning, Daniel O'Brien, regional director of C.C.L., will visit Kelowna to discuss the matter with local union heads. W. Symington, representative of the U.P.W.A., went to Victoria last week in an effort to get the provincial government to declare the fruit and vegetable union an illegal organization, but it is understood the B.C. government has passed the matter along to the National War Relations Board at Ottawa.

Mr. Symington addressed a U.P.W.A. meeting in Penticton recently, at which 150 people attended. At the close of the meeting, he asked sympathizers to stay behind, and it was reported that five remained.

Issues Statement
Commenting on the union controversy, L. R. Stephens, secretary of the Industrial Labor Negotiating committee, made the following statement:

"In view of the rumors that are being circulated, evidently with the purpose of causing unrest among packinghouse workers, I think it is highly desirable that it be made abundantly clear that in the first place we are dealing with the group which has been certified by the government as the sole bargaining agent for the employees in each packinghouse, namely, the United Packinghouse Workers' Union, and there is no doubt whatsoever in our minds as to the legality of the agreement we have made with these bargaining agents. The system of check-off adopted is the most democratic in existence and fully recognizes the rights and protects the interests of the non-union employee and of the seasonal workers."

A survey of the situation from prize winners for the Modern Electric Appliances and Electric Draw, celebrating the opening of new and existing premises, were determined on Tuesday night. First prize was won by Mrs. S. Neid, East Kelowna. Harry Webb, Kelowna, and Chas. Swordy, 467 Leon Avenue, were runners-up for second and third prizes, respectively.

Valley Apple Export Movement Heavy But Overseas Shipments May Be Held Up By U.S. Strike

Twelve to Fifteen Cars of Bulk Apples Going to California Daily—Heavy Shipments Also Going to Other U.S. Processing Plants—Bulk Macs Being Sent to Prairies—Shipments Relieve Heavily Pressed Industry and Ease Box and Nail Situation—Eastern Crops Damaged by Snow

EXPORT apple movement out of the Valley is heavy this week with shipments to the United Kingdom heading east to catch a ship on the eastern seaboard and other shipments moving to New York and New Orleans with a final destination in Palestine and Brazil. The latter movement, of course, may be held up due to the current maritime strike in the United States.

Twelve to fifteen cars of bulk apples are crossing the border each day headed for California, where the majority are being used for processing and some for juice. The bulk of the apples are McIntosh with a sprinkling of Wealthies.

During the past three weeks about ninety-five cars went to Oroville, Omak and Wenatchee processing plants but this deal dried up abruptly when packing of Delicious commenced south of the border.

The odd car, too, is finding its way to Freewater, Oregon, and Seattle. Those going to the former place are frozen while the Seattle shipments are being canned. The frozen apples end up as pie. The apples are peeled, cored and put in boxes with layers of sugar and then are quick frozen and held until needed.

About a hundred and eighty cars of bulk Macs have been sent to the Prairies, mostly to Saskatchewan. These were principally hailed fruit and the reception was so good that in many cases orders were repeated. These shipments have been meeting the heavily pressed industry and eased the box and nail situation to some degree.

The export shipments have resulted in a little delay in meeting the full requirements of the domestic market.

Eastern Crops Damaged
In Ontario this week there has been an unusually early touch of winter. On Tuesday there was about eight inches of snow over a considerable portion of the apple producing area and this was followed on Wednesday with high winds and more snow and rain.

Just how the apple crop will be affected is not yet known here, but it is presumed that winds would cause considerable loss while heavy wet snow would probably do considerable damage to the trees by breaking, especially as they are still in leaf.

Grapes are moving at a rate of two or three cars a day and are in good demand.

The Hyslop crop, as was the Transcend, was considerably under-estimated and the unsold quantity is fairly heavy.

Delicious are now being packed in Oliver and Osoyoos and Jonathan in Penticton.

D'Anjou pears are now moving to points from Victoria to Halifax and the crop will be completely packed this week.

Prunes are cleaned up while the onion movement is quite satisfactory and the lettuce sales are draggy.

Car shipments for the week commencing September 23 were 820, with daily supt. mts from Monday being 135, 161, 119, 116, 124, 165. On Monday, September 30, the movement was 161 with another 140 on Tuesday.

On Tuesday, October 1, the season's car shipments had totalled 6,627. On the same date in 1945 and 1944 they were 5,135 and 5,631, respectively.

SAYS CANADA NOT ALONE IN LABOR UNREST

Hon. Grote Stirling Addresses Members of Junior Chamber of Commerce

WORLD CHAOS

Sees No Improvement Until All Parties Can Patch Up Differences

Canada does not stand alone with labor troubles, but there can be no improvement in labor unrest until all parties sit down and try to patch up their differences. Hon. Grote Stirling, M.P. (Yale), told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday night. Mr. Stirling, who gave a resume of the strike picture in Canada, dealing at great length with the Hamilton steel strike, thought that goodwill on the part of the employer and employee is the only answer to the problem, and called upon members of the Jaycees to take a greater interest in world problems, so that they would be in a position to take an active part in public life.

The dinner meeting, presided over by the congenial president, Bill Green, was well attended by a representative gathering of business men in Kelowna, and from the reports submitted by the various committee heads, the organization is playing an important role in civic affairs. A report on local traffic conditions appears elsewhere on this page.

The federal member of Parliament said it was about 22 years ago when he was asked to contest a by-election in this constituency, at which time he was president of the local Board of Trade. "It is not at all unlikely that one of you in this room will be sitting in the House of Commons at some future date," he declared, urging the Jaycees to continue their active community work.

"We look out on the world today and see chaos. We finished the war, but we are still surrounded by many problems. We are finding it hard to understand Russia's point of view. Their outlook is so different, and yet they are our allies. They are not far from 1919 British troops were fighting them in north and south Russia, so there is little wonder they look askance at countries they see as democracies," the speaker said.

Strike Movement
Mr. Stirling then traced the strike movement in Canada, referring briefly to the B.C. lumber walk-out, which was finally settled by granting an increase in wages. He reminded his listeners, however, that the wage increase was offset by a turn to Page 5, Story 2.

MILK PRICES UP TWO CENTS

Milk prices went up two cents a quart here on Tuesday, result of the Federal Government discontinuing payment of the subsidy to producers. Cream prices were not affected, a local spokesman said. Delivered prices are now: special (4.5 per cent butterfat) 16c quart, 9c pint; standard (3.5 per cent butterfat) 14c quart, 8c pint. Quarts were upped two cents and pints one cent. Cream remains at 50c quart, 28c pint and 15c half-pint.

Government spokesmen have stressed that neither the producers or the retailer are getting any more for the milk. The public is paying directly now what the Government paid to the producers by subsidy, they assured. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has ruled that no change be made in the price of milk by the glass in public eating places.

CARDINALS WIN

St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-4, today, and won the right to meet Boston Red Sox in the World Series beginning on Sunday. See previous story on page 5.

Fruit Problems

NEXT TEN DAYS CRITICAL AS APPLES FLOOD PACKING HOUSES

The next ten days are critical ones for the fruit industry, as a combination of a record apple crop and a series of shipping difficulties has now placed the industry in a position where a squeeze of some sort is almost certain to occur.

The current picture, briefly, is that local packing houses are jammed to the limit and are now unable to handle the flood of apples reaching them. This applies generally throughout the central and northern sections of the Valley. Packing houses are cramped in their operations through labor shortages and a certain irresponsibility in the attitude of outside labor. One house has a large grader not operating, as a crew of thirty women is needed and they cannot be obtained. Again, two men applied to a manager for a day off to go fishing. The manager explained that they held vital posts in the line and that it was the business part of the whole season. Nevertheless, they did go fishing by simply quitting their jobs. A dozen similar stories could be told.

Added to labor problems are the shortages of trucks. The crop is larger than anticipated, and in some houses boxes are growing scarce, partially for want of nails, while in other houses they cannot be made fast enough.

Always at this time of the year,

SQUATTERS PRESENT PROBLEM IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver has a squatter problem which centres on three army huts turned over to the University of B.C., but now occupied by 13 families. University officials say they will not evict squatters, although huts are needed for students. Electricity and water were turned on after the families were forced to make make-shift stoves to cook meals. Mr. and Mrs. H. Douglas are shown preparing dinner in a pressure cooker.

Prolonged Canadian Steel Strike Settled

SAULT STE. MARIE—Basic steel strikers voted 7,169 to 388 to accept the recommendations of negotiations committee of the United Steel Workers of America and the Government steel controller for settlement of the wages-hours strike which began July 15.

United Steel Workers Union officials said they now await word from the steel controller as to when they will return to work. Union officials asked controller F. B. Kilbourn to designate officials with whom the union would deal in ending the walkout.

There is still no official word as to the settlement terms. Reports indicated that a 13 cents an hour increase has been approved, with other points in dispute to be settled by arbitration.

Statement of the prolonged steel strike was greeted with enthusiasm by officials of the fruit industry today, as it will mean that sufficient nails will be received for the crop before the end of October.

L. R. Stephens, chairman of the box shoo committee, stated that following a telephone conversation this morning with the priorities department, he had been advised that Ottawa has not left a stone unturned to arrange for immediate dispatch of rods from the steel plant at Hamilton, to the Morrison Steel Wire Co., at Vancouver, for the production of the much needed nails. Everything is in readiness at Vancouver to commence production of box nails, the moment the rods are received.

Co-operation
Officials of the fruit industry feel that with a careful pooling of the stocks they have been able to accumulate from a wide variety of sources, the gap will be bridged with practically no slowing up in box production or lidding because of the shortage of nails.

An excellent spirit of co-operation has been displayed by fruit packers in the sharing of their supplies with less fortunate houses.

The Kelowna Growers Exchange has received a shipment of about two pounds of nails from a resident of Vancouver Island who evidently learned of the impending shortage and wanted to do his bit to prevent any loss of essential food products.

LOCAL DOCTOR MADE LIFE MEMBER ST. JOHN ORDER

Dr. Walter Anderson Played Major Role in First Aid Classes During War

Dr. Walter Anderson has been made a life member of the Order of St. John, the presentation of the official certificate being made at the Gyro meeting on Tuesday evening by G. Henderson-Watts, of the local command of the order.

Mr. Watts explained that the recommendation had been made to the order's headquarters in recognition of Dr. Anderson's co-operation during the war years when, at one time, it was feared that British Columbia might actually be attacked. For several years more than four hundred persons took the order's first aid course and Dr. Anderson had given long hours as lecturer and examiner.

Dr. Anderson, completely taken by surprise, in replying, stated that credit for the splendid showing of the local St. John's Command was due entirely to the efforts of Mr. Watts and Fred Gore.

Keep Fruit Moving
One obvious danger is that a greater than expected McIntosh crop will absorb boxes earmarked for Jonathan, and these in turn will absorb boxes earmarked for Delicious and so on throughout the season with the deficiency increasing as the various varieties go over estimates. This naturally would seriously affect the more valuable later varieties.

It is essential that the fruit be kept moving. This is necessary in order that the packing house facilities be kept in full operation and also to prevent backing up and spoilage due to long delays in packing and moving into refrigeration.

The next ten days will probably tell the story, but any person familiar with the industry can readily see that under current conditions, with the shortages of essential facilities and a record-breaking crop to pack, trouble of some type is almost certain to occur. The fruit industry can not do itself justice under such uncontrollable conditions. Nor can returns to the growers benefit from them.

Airplane Bursts Into Flames After Striking Side Of Hill In Newfoundland Wilderness

Plane Will Use City Airfield On Friday

The first plane to use the projected Kelowna air field will probably land there Friday morning. Thursday afternoon irrigation ditches were being filled in and a strip marked out for immediate use. Temporary markers were erected and the B.C. Interior Aviation expected that it would bring a plane in Friday morning.

Officials of this company on Thursday afternoon expressed satisfaction with the field, commenting on its general excellent approaches. They expressed the opinion that the topping of some trees at the south end of the strip and a few hours work with bulldozers would put the field in good shape.

The Kelowna Aviation Council expects that the field will be completely levelled this fall and that the air strip will be seeded early in the spring. In the meantime the B.C. Interior Aviation expects to use the field consistently, starting on Sunday.

None Believed to Have Survived—Greatest Tragedy in American Commercial Aviation—No Canadians Aboard—Second Plane Tragedy in Newfoundland Within Two Weeks

En Route To Germany

NEW YORK—An American Overseas Airlines plane with 39 persons aboard, three of them infants, plunged in flames into the wilderness of western Newfoundland today in what may be the greatest tragedy in the history of American commercial aviation. No Canadians were among passengers.

The four engine DC-4, en route from New York to Berlin, crashed 10 minutes after it left Stephenville, Newfoundland. It was the second plane tragedy in Newfoundland within two weeks. On Sept. 18 a Belgian Sabena airliner crashed near Gander, killing 27 of 44 aboard. Some women and children were enroute to Germany to join husbands.

At Gander, officials of airline said rescue planes which flew over the area reported wreckage still burning four hours after the crash and unlikely anyone aboard was alive.

Captain Jacques Charnoz said he was at Gander, Newfoundland, 225 miles from crash scene, when it occurred. He could see glow of explosion before he took off, and later circled the wreck. "The plane hit the side of a hill high up and was still smoking," he said. Reports said it was raining in the wreck area. The airliner appeared to have exploded after the crash and only tiny fragments of the ship were visible.

FIRE GUTS SUMMERLAND APPLE PLANT

Damage Estimated at $25,000 After Firemen Fight Blaze For Two Hours

TOWN THREATENED
Lack of Wind Prevents Fire Spreading Through Business Section

SUMMERLAND—Fire, believed to have started in the furnace room, completely destroyed the T. B. Young evaporating plant at Summerland shortly after noon on Tuesday. Damage is estimated at about $25,000.

Quick action on the part of the Summerland Volunteer Fire Department prevented the flames from spreading, and for a time the entire business section of the community was threatened. Fortunately there was little wind and firemen managed to prevent the flames from spreading.

The plant was to have been taken over by the B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., but it is understood final negotiations had not been completed with Mr. Young. The blaze was brought under control after firemen fought the flames for two hours. Although a hose was brought in from the Summerland box factory.

Mr. Young said the stock of processed loose apples was valued at $12,000; the building at $8,000, and equipment at $5,000. Part of the equipment was saved.

NAME CONTEST

With the second ferry due to go into operation between Kelowna and Westbank early in the new year, the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have the public suggest a suitable name for the vessel.

The matter was discussed at the monthly meeting of Jaycees Wednesday night, at which time it was suggested that entries should be sent to the Kelowna Courier. A committee will be appointed later to consider the suggestions. More than one entry may be sent in by an individual. Entries should be addressed to "Ferry Contest", c/o Kelowna Courier.

While it is thought the name "M.S. Holdup II", would not be chosen, it was distinctly mentioned that "M.S. Bottle-neck" would be an appropriate name.

Sweeping Changes In City Traffic Are Recommended In Jaycee Report After Careful Study of Congestion

Installation of Traffic Signals at Three Intersections; One Way Lane Traffic; Bicycle Licensing System, Among Most Important Suggestions—Report Made by Traffic Committee of Junior Chamber of Commerce Following Comprehensive Survey—Find Many Bottlenecks at Noon and at 5 p.m.

SWEEPING traffic changes which call for the installation of traffic signals at three busy intersections on Bernard Avenue, instituting one way lane traffic in the vicinity of business houses, enactment of a bicycle licensing system to facilitate identification of bicycles that have been stolen, and carrying out a vigorous safety week campaign to educate the public as to the rules and regulations governing the conduct of cyclists on public highways and safety precautions that should be taken, are contained in a report submitted by the traffic committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the monthly meeting held Wednesday night. The report was made following a comprehensive survey of traffic conditions in the city, and no doubt will assist the City Council in making any charges that would alleviate the present traffic bottle-necks which occur in various parts of the city.

The 12-man committee, headed by R. M. Hayman, did not reveal their findings until a careful study had been made of congestion of motor vehicles at busy intersections. Members of the committee were H. W. Witt, W. A. Lloyd-Jones, H. J. Balfour, D. R. Johnson, W. L. Palmer, T. E. Harding, R. L. Orsi, H. C. Armeau, R. A. Warren, V. L. Ahrens and W. C. Brodie.

Traffic counts made at 12 o'clock noon for a ten minute period, showed an average of 105 cars using the intersection of Bernard and Ellis, over 95 cars using Bernard and Pender, and a lesser number using other intersections. Peak periods of traffic at all three intersections occur at noon and at 5 p.m., the committee found.

Continuing, the report said the congestion mainly results from U-turns and left turns being made short of the centre point of the intersection, bicyclists not observing stop signs or obeying traffic rules or even ordinary precautions, and concentration of slow moving vehicles in the centres of the intersections which vehicles are jammed by others making U-turn or going in

TOKIO—U.S. and Japanese scientists and army authorities today scoffed at a report sent to the United States by American correspondent that Japan made and tested atomic bomb before the end of the war. They said the story was "most unlikely."

An independent newspaper published every Monday and Thursday at 1500 Water St., Kelowna, by The Kelowna Courier Ltd.

Authorized as second class mail. Post Office Dept., Ottawa

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

Eastern Advertising Representative: Class A Weeklies, Concourse Building, Toronto.

R. P. MacLEAN, Publisher

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1946

Thanks!

Since Monday many of our readers have been kind enough to comment favorably upon The Courier's new policy of publishing on Mondays and Thursdays instead of once a week as formerly. The number of those who have extended congratulations and best wishes has surprised us.

To them we can only say "Thanks!" and that we appreciate their interest. It is our hope that we will be able to provide the Central Okanagan with an efficient local newspaper service. It was, shortages of materials and labor shortages do not interfere. The Courier will be geared to meet the needs of the district and will be ready to provide any service which is essential to the advancement of the district's interests.

Twice weekly publication is the first step to better local newspaper coverage. It is naturally gratifying that this step has received such an enthusiastic public reception.

School Traffic Patrols

After a lapse of some years the school traffic patrol is again being instituted. It operated here for a few years in the early forties but was one of the things which were dropped when war forced more pressing demands on our attention. The patrol's re-appearance on the streets adjacent to the school can have nothing but a good effect and, if accepted in the proper light, should be welcomed by motorists.

Fundamentally the real purpose of the patrol is not to control or direct traffic. The basic idea behind the patrol is a continuance of the safety studies which the students have had in classrooms. It is a practical application of the theory of the classroom. Through it students will learn that they should cross streets at certain designated points and not jay walk; that care should be taken when crossing streets and that when they are driving cars, as they will, they have definite responsibilities towards pedestrians.

Perhaps these lessons may filter in some slight degree to the bicycle riders. This would be a blessing as with each passing day jay-riding cyclists become more and more of a hazard to motorists and a menace to pedestrians. Bicycle traffic is most difficult to control but conditions here are rapidly reaching a point where a drastic campaign will be necessary. For obvious reasons a student bicycle patrol is impractical but it may not be too much to hope that the student traffic patrols may take the opportunity of impressing the ordinary rules of common sense and decency on those of the student body who ride bicycles.

The school traffic patrols are again on the streets and they deserve the full co-operation of pedestrians, both adults and students, as well as that of all drivers of vehicles, whether they be of the two or four wheel variety.

Canada Savings Bonds

The limit for purchases of the new Canada Savings Bond by individuals has now been set at $2,000. Purchases of the new security may only be made in the name of individuals and not in the name of firms, institutions, or in trust for second parties.

The decision to place a limit on purchases by individuals bears out a statement made by the Minister of Finance to the House of Commons last June. Mr. Hiesley pointed out at that time that, since the terms of the Canada Savings Bond would be more favorable than those available for comparable securities at the time of issue, it would be necessary to restrict individual holdings. If no limit were set, the new security would naturally be purchased in volume by institutions and larger investors for whom it is not intended. The Canada Savings Bond is designed solely as a personal savings facility.

All Canada Savings Bonds will be registered as to principal. This registration is made necessary by the need to control holdings, but will offer protection to holders against loss of their investment at the same time. Further, bonds may be registered in the name of minors as well as adults. It is probable that many purchases will be registered in the names of children and others by those who wish to take added advantage of the investment opportunity but who would otherwise be restricted to the $2,000 limit on purchases in their own name.

The interest rate of 2 1/2 per cent bears out the forecast made last June by the Minister of Finance that the interest would be more favorable than those of other comparable investments at the time of issue. The fact that the Canada Savings Bond is backed by the resources of the Dominion of Canada makes it the safest of all investments, and comparison can only properly be made with other Dominion of Canada issues. A useful comparison in respect to yield is found in the 3 1/2 per cent Dominion of Canada bonds maturing in 1959 and callable in 1956. The theoretical yield on these securities currently stands at approximately 2.43 per cent. Thus the yield on Canada Savings Bonds of 2.75 per cent plus the feature of redemption on demand at any bank at 100 per cent, makes the new security more attractive than any similar investment available today.

A. B. C.

Announcement made of the annual meeting in Chicago on October 17-18 of the Audit Bureau of Circulations calls attention to an operation of self-regulation in industry that is an outstanding example of the North American way of life in business. The membership of this thirty-two year old association, with which this newspaper is affiliated, comprises 2,900 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies in the United States and Canada. Working together and without outside interference, these sellers and buyers of advertising space have voluntarily set up rules and standards for use in measuring and evaluating the circulation of published media.

The Audit Bureau, better known as A.B.C., maintains a large staff of experienced circulation auditors who examine and audit the circulation records of all publisher members at regular intervals. The results of these audits are issued in A. B. C. reports which are available to advertisers and publishers for use in the buying and selling of advertising space. These reports tell how much net paid circulation a publication has, how it was obtained, the price or prices at which it was sold, how and where distributed and many other facts essential to the sound investment of advertising money. Thus, with the aid of A. B. C. reports, advertisers can select the media best adapted to their needs, invest their money on the basis of facts and know just what they get for their advertising dollars. This is a far cry from the conditions that existed prior to 1914, the year A. B. C. was established, when advertisers had no uniform standards for the comparison and evaluation of media and when publishers were unable to get full credit for their circulation claims.

Today ninety-four per cent of the total circulation of all daily newspapers in the United States and ninety-eight per cent in Canada is audited by A. B. C. Many weekly newspapers have joined the Bureau in recent years and the movement of verified circulation in the weekly field is growing rapidly. In addition to newspapers the Bureau's publisher membership includes most of the leading magazines, business papers and farm publications in the United States and Canada.

Through the use of A. B. C. reports advertisers can select media on the basis of facts obtained through actual audits. It is probable that without the protection for advertising made possible by the use of A. B. C. reports, advertisers would not have appropriated the large sums for advertising which now characterize American economy. The Audit Bureau therefore by its participation in the development of advertising and the welfare of the press is an integral part in the public service performed by the newspapers of America.

The Kelowna Courier was one of the first weekly newspapers in Canada to join the A. B. C. In doing so it ensured that its advertisers would obtain an honest circulation and not be exposed to fictitious claims. This means that Courier advertisers purchase a guaranteed paid circulation and they know just exactly what they are buying. No other advertising medium in the Central Okanagan can give this guarantee.

Nuernberg A Precedent

The long course of the Nuernberg trial has come to its end. Nearly a year has passed since the twenty-one defendants were called to the dock and charged with monstrous crimes against humanity, collectively and individually. To some, it has seemed like a useless waste of time, as there was no serious question of their guilt. The purpose of the trial went far beyond the fate of those men as persons, however. It attempted to establish a new order of jurisprudence, by developing principles of international law which will make inevitable the arraignment of future military aggressors.

To this end, there was assembled one of the most distinguished groups of legal and judicial talent ever known. The conduct of the trial was notable for the dignity and impartiality of its proceedings. It brought forth an impressive mass of evidence, a terrific indictment not only of the particular men on trial, but of the weakness of human nature when it abandons civilized standards. The length of the trial was in the end an advantage, as it effectually eliminated even the spirit of vengeance, placing the proceedings on a plane which posterity will approve and endorse.

In the perspective of time, the fateful drama of the trial will gain a clarity which the tedious unfolding of the past year-year has beclouded. The unbelievable immorality of the Nazi system, the utter lack of the elements of decent character in the men who founded and operated it, the unspeakable ruin and tragedy which it brought to millions of people, all will fit like the pieces of mosaic into the picture of this unhappy century. It might well be the official text on the history of Nazism in the German schools. The verdict of the judges has been given. They found that the miserable lot in the dock were not equally guilty, even if morally culpable through unprotesting participation. On the final day of the trial, the accused gave their last defence, their blustering swagger gone, their defiance a watery travesty of courage. Their cowardly weakness makes sad reading: a dead Hitler, like a foul scoundrel, is saddled with the responsibility of their hideous crimes, though they were proud once to hail him as their leader and the flower of their race.

But what happens to this sorry crew will not long matter to humanity at large. By their trial, the world has rendered an historic verdict on aggressive warfare. It has made certain that those who lead a nation into crime will themselves pay the penalty. That is a long step forward in the slow achievement of a warless world.

A Threat To Liberty

(From The New York Times)

Since the end of the war it has become more and more evident that the industrial strike has ceased to be primarily a contest between employers and workers and has become primarily a test of the public endurance. The pattern of the seamen's strike and the truckers' strike has been of a deadly familiarity. Each such episode begins with a deadlock. Neither side will give in. Mediation fails. There is an appeal to governmental intervention. This, too, is ineffectual. The public is then deprived of some essential service. Emergency measures are taken or threatened. There is wild talk, like that of the agent of the Seafarers International Union who yesterday threatened that if the Government moved any of "our ships" the union would "call on all organized labor to come out with us for an over-all, national, general strike." And finally there is a settlement, in which nobody gains more than a tiny fraction of what the public, the employer and the workman have lost by this calamity. If justice is done it is accidental. It is the public's capacity to endure, not its sense of justice, that has been tested.

Strikes of this sort are not altogether new. The railway strikes of 1877, the Pullman strike of 1894 were in the pattern. What is new is that this kind of strike has almost replaced the older type in which there was some appeal to public sympathy; that more men and more occupations have been organized, so that the impact is greater; that the organization is more effective, so that strikes are conducted with an almost military sense of strategy, and that such struggles have taken on a political complexion.

Any thoughtful citizen, whether unionist, employer or innocent bystander, must realize that the present system of industrial warfare has developed to a point where it cannot be contained within the older system of individual freedom. The nation has a choice between self-restraint and a dangerous extension of governmental power. It cannot long remain in a state of economic anarchy which is only comparable with that of medieval Italy or the pioneer Western town in which the man who was quickest on the draw was the town tyrant.

The unions have an especial responsibility, not because they ask improvements in pay and working conditions, but because they have grown enormously in power. When they use this new power to imperil the public welfare they also imperil their own collective and individual liberties and the liberties of us all.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By The "Beaver"

KEN MCCONNELL, VANCOUVER SPORTS EDITOR, hit the nail on the head recently when he commented on the work of the L.T.U. and how it affected men who have devoted the best years of their lives to newspaper work. For the benefit of those who did not read Mr. McConnell's article, he lashed out at those union organizers who are employing every means possible to disrupt an organization that has been woven into an efficient machine due to the efforts of faithful employees who have taken an interest in their work during long years of service. He went on to say that when small groups of union leaders try to dominate a trade union composed of contented workers, thereby threatening the daily bread and butter of other employees of an organization, the work of indignation pricks the veins of any sane-thinking newspaperman.

BUT TO COME BACK TO HOME MATTERS: The public is well-aware of the controversy presently waging between the United Packing-house Workers of America and the newly formed Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union in the Okanagan Valley. Let it be stated at the outset, we, the Courier, are not interested in the internal squabbles of two union organizations, but in order to give the public the news, a newspaper naturally enters into the fray. In other words, a newspaper is the innocent third party, and is subject to criticism from all angles. It is easy to get up on a platform and make charges and counter charges before a listening audience, but just let any of those charges appear in cold print, and even the speaker himself would deny he made such a statement.

THAT IS THE REASON time and again men in public life, who have a little chutzpah in phrasing their words, have claimed they have been misquoted when they see the report in a newspaper. It takes only a few seconds to make a serious charge verbally in a public platform. The audience like it. It has that proper psychological effect which the speaker is endeavoring to work into his public speech. A few of these words are forgotten—the audience rests back in their chairs. But the well-trained speaker will not allow them to remain in this frame of mind for long. He will make another scathing remark which will bring his audience to their feet, and then plunge back into technicalities again. But just let any of those charges appear in type, and it's a different story.

AN EXAMPLE OF THIS was given last week when the U.P.W.A. organizer, J. Hampson, said, and we quote, "The Courier told us to get out of the Valley." We challenge Mr. Hampson to show us where we told him to get out of the Valley. We have out of the Okanagan, and our news paper files are open for inspection. No doubt Mr. Hampson's statement had the desired effect upon his audience.

BUT THIS WEEK'S EFFORT does not intend to go into the merits of trade unionism. We can find easier ways in getting into hot water, as no matter what one writes, invariably someone is dissatisfied. We started out by commenting on newspaper work, and what the profession means to those engaged in it. The average newspaperman takes a pride in his work. He doesn't care whether he has to work eight, ten or twelve hours a day. When the giant presses roll and the results of those efforts appear in newspaper form, with the sweet smell of printer's ink lingering between the pages, he is proud of the time when one thinks "This is MY newspaper, and this is the result of MY efforts." It is then that the "printer's ink" flows through one's veins at an ever-increasing rate.

HOLLYWOOD UNFORTUNATELY is responsible for giving the public a wrong stand on newspaper work. It is the time when one thinks "This is MY newspaper, and this is the result of MY efforts." It is then that the "printer's ink" flows through one's veins at an ever-increasing rate.

BUT THERE IS ONE TYPE of newspaper that has undergone a major change during the last 15 or 20 years. I refer to the weeklies—the newspapers that furnish the news to small communities. Younger and more aggressive editors (with all due respect to the old-timers) have taken over from the more conservative type of publishers. While a weekly newspaper is still interested in, shall we say, what happened to Mrs. Jones' cow, there is a growing trend to follow the style of a daily newspaper. A community newspaper is now more interested in its own city or town, and as a community grows, that particular newspaper must be prepared to keep pace with an ever increasing population. It is with this in mind that the Courier is proud to present to its readers a newspaper which in future will be published twice weekly. We hope you'll like it.

"The new city street lighting system is not a conspicuous success, chiefly because the gasoline lamps are not lit when most required. We hope the Council will take measures to provide that they are lit on nights when there is no moonlight."

"Ample showers at the end of last week and beginning of this have dispelled the murky clouds of smoke that hung over the Valley, and the consequent clearing of the atmosphere is welcome indeed."

"At the meeting of the City Council last Thursday night the chief business was acceptance of the fire engine. The total amount for engine and hose to be paid the Kelowna Engine Co. comes to $3,055. Among other matters, it was decided to do the street grading by day labor; to fix $5.00 per day as the rate of pay for teams; to repair defective sidewalks, and to let the Board of Fire Underwriters for a reduction of insurance rates. Jas. Bowes was officially appointed Chief of the Fire Brigade."

"At a meeting of the Fire Brigade, held on Saturday evening in the sample room of the Lakeview Hotel, it was decided to hold weekly practice on Tuesday evenings, commencing on Tuesday, Sept. 11th. A number of business matters were discussed and the following list of needed supplies was drawn up for presentation to the Council: 6 prs. rubber boots, 6 rubber coats, 2 extension ladders (one 18 and one 24 feet long), a steel triangle for use as an alarm, 4 axes, 6 couplets, the same on the new hose, 1 Siamese coupling, a tongue and whistle-trees for the fire engine, 300 feet of hose, 75 or 100 feet of 1-inch rope. It was recommended that the approach from the street to the Fire Hall be put in order, and that the Council should arrange for some one to clean and dry the hose after a practice or fire as the members of the Brigade did not think they should be asked to give the time necessary for that work."

"We have been asked by a correspondent what is the meaning of the word 'Kelowna'. We understand the name was selected in 1892 for the then new townsite by Bernard Lequin and is an Okanagan Indian word meaning 'grizzly bear'. The few old Indians left here bitterly resent the modern pronunciation of the word, and they insist that it should be pronounced 'Ke-laow-na', with the stress on the middle syllable, which is given the sound of 'ow' as in the word 'now'. When the town was started the Indian pronunciation was generally used, and that it was phonetically correct seems to be borne out by the fact that strangers nowadays who have not seen the word in print, but have heard it spoken, generally spell it 'Colona'."

Upon the occasion of his impending departure for the Old Country, R. N. Dundas, of Short's Point (now Fintry), was entertained to dinner at the Lakeview Hotel on Sept. 10th by a number of old friends, and the 'Order of the Bell' was conferred upon him in the form of a cow bell bound with silver and bearing a silver shield with the inscription, 'That you may never be forty miles from home without a bell on.' A favorite saying of the recipient, (the author of twenty-one present reveals that only six now survive in 1946.)

"Frank R. Knapton left on Saturday for the Coast, where he intends to enlist for overseas service, joining a battalion of engineers, in which he expects to follow his trade and serve his country at the same time."

"The twelve prisoners who escaped from the Vernon internment camp on Sept. 2nd and are still at large. Further details of the get-away disclose that the men dug a tunnel nearly 100 feet long by making and using a wooden borer or giant auger. The earth was removed and carried back by means of a circular rope to beneath the floor of the kitchen, which stands some height from the ground. The trap-door in the floor leading to the tunnel was covered by a bread box."

"At a meeting of the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta, held at Edmonton, a strong resolution was passed reaffirming the attitude of the U.F.A. in condemning the increase in tariff on B.C. apples, and calling upon members of the organization to support the central office by purchasing their apples outside B.C., if possible."

August, 1916, was a comparatively cool month, with maximum temperatures much below the average. The temperature rose to 80 or over on five days only, the highest being on the 27th. The nights were cool, temperatures below 50 being recorded on thirteen evenings.

"Greatly to the satisfaction of local officials, the C.N.R. freight yards here have been put in permanent shape for traffic, every track having been graded."

"This week almost all the packing houses have been waging battle with the peak of the McIntosh rush, and fact little else than the packing of that variety has been attempted at most of these establishments."

"The City Police are anxious for local residents to know that there appear to be a considerable number of sneak thieves about just now, and they warn that people should take extra precautions in leaving their premises locked up when absent from home."

"This week is witnessing the peak of the rush of tomatoes at the local canneries, most of which have been working overtime. This season the tomatoes have not all ripened at the same time and consequently there has been no glut at the factories, everything running more smoothly than during the average season."

"The enrolment at the Public School this term is the largest in the history of the city, being in excess of six hundred and fifteen and, as many children have not finished assisting in the harvesting of crops and others have not yet returned from vacation trips, it is expected that the large attendance will tax severely even the increased accommodation furnished by the introduction of the platoon system."

While his leader (Premier Arthur Meighen) met personal defeat in Portage La Prairie and his party would lose the reins of power as the general result of the federal election of Tuesday, Sept. 14th, Grote Stirling, former member and Conservative candidate for Yale, received a splendid tribute from the voters of his constituency, for they increased his enormous majority of 2,703 in the election of October, 1925, to near the four thousand mark, practically doubling the total of his Liberal opponent, F. B. Coslett. Unrevised figures for 71 polls of the 76 in the riding gave Stirling a total of 7,839 as against 3,831 for Coslett.

MAN RETURNS FROM DEAD AFTER 30 YEARS

Mrs. T. D. Stribling, 32-year-old housewife, as she was reunited with her father, William M. Houghton, of Vancouver, B.C., at her Dallas, Tex., home after being separated since 1915 when he joined the Canadian army and was reported killed in action. His next visit will be with his other daughter, Mrs. Georgia Mercedes, of San Francisco, Calif. Shortly after Houghton's Canadian buddies reported him "blown to bits," his wife collapsed and died in a San Francisco hospital. The two little girls were adopted and their names changed. Happy reunion ended a 30-year search for his family.

Peachland Parents Protest Moving High School To Westbank

Petition Circulated and Will be Sent to Victoria and Kelowna School District—Claim Property Values in Peachland Will Depreciate if School Moved to Westbank

PEACHLAND—Members of the Peachland Parent-Teacher Association are protesting the removal of the high school to Westbank, and a petition has already been circulated in the community. A copy of the petition will be sent to Victoria, and the Kelowna School District No. 23 will also be acquainted with the facts. During the discussion, it was felt that property values in Peachland would depreciate if the school was moved to the Westbank district.

At the first fall meeting of the organization held in the Municipal Hall last Thursday, September 26, a committee was appointed to draft a letter to W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A., asking his advice and help in the matter. Mrs. G. Topham, Mrs. A. E. Miller, S. G. Dell and C. C. Duquemin were appointed on the committee. A letter was also sent to Mrs. C. W. Mellich, provincial president of the P.T.F., in this connection, and in a reply, Mrs. Mellich requested that questionnaires be filled out and returned to her, including the names, ages and grades of pupils, condition of weather, roads, distance pupils have to travel to the bus stop, etc. S. G. Dell wanted to know why the money which would have to be spent on buses could not be appropriated on the school instead. The question was also asked why the teachers for specialized subjects could not be brought in, and be at different schools on certain days in the week instead of pupils being moved.

Dissenting Voice
The only dissenting voice was G. W. Finlayson, who thought that the school would be better in Westbank, as he thought the community would grow and that there would be more industries, a larger school, and that the children would have a better chance to get the specialized studies.

A letter had been sent to Inspector A. S. Matheson asking him to address the meeting, but owing to pressure of business, he was unable to attend, but offered to speak at the meeting in October. Mrs. George Topham, president of the Peachland Parent-Teacher Association, occupied the chair.

Three new teachers, Miss Nina Jasechko, Miss Molly Noonan, and Miss Dorothy Dawes, attended the meeting, and were introduced to the parents.

A committee was formed to decide the best way the money raised on the sports day could be used. Mrs. Topham, Miss Jasechko, Mrs. W. in the last civil law examination Bradbury, and K. Domi are to re-

FREE HERDS OF DISEASE

LONDON—(CP)—Suggestions for a national plan to clear tuberculosis from Britain's milking herds have gone to farm organizations from the agriculture ministry. Already there is a fair proportion of attested herds in such areas as Wales and Southwest Scotland and it is thought likely those places will be the first districts marked out as T.B.-free districts. Compulsory testing is expected to be introduced, as has been done in many Canadian municipalities.

WHITEHORSE (CP)—Bill Rowlings has built up a lucrative trade supplying Whitehorse with fresh tomatoes, scarce as hen's teeth in the Yukon. Rowlings recently discovered a hot spring close to the Arctic Circle and harnesses the water to heat three hot houses.

QUEBEC (CP)—Jeanne d'Arc LeMay, Quebec City's first woman lawyer, has been presented with a gold medal by Marcel Poirnard, batonnier of the Paris Bar, for having topped all other participants in the last civil law examination of the Province of Quebec.

FOR WEST COAST SERVICE

Above is the naval architect's drawing of the 5,000-ton steamship which will be built for the Pacific Coast and Alaska service of the Canadian National Pacific Coast Steamships by the Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, at its Yarrow plant, Victoria. The ship, the largest passenger vessel ever to be built on the Pacific Coast, will cost about $3,000,000 and should enter service in 1948. Plans of McLaughlin and Son, consulting engineers and naval architects, call for a vessel with an over-all length of 350 feet, a breadth of 52 feet, a displacement tonnage of 5,000 tons and a speed of 18 knots. The ship will have accommodation for 322 passengers, all in outside cabins, and 50,000 cubic feet of cargo space, of which 5,000 will be refrigerated. Besides giving important passenger and cargo service all year round to Vancouver, Powell River, Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert, the steamship will provide Alaska cruises for thousands of summer tourists. The crew will consist of 20 officers and 112 men.

WESTBANK

WESTBANK—Miss Grace Hewlett, of Kelowna, was a visitor to Westbank on Saturday to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Myrtle Hewlett. About forty guests, friends and relatives gathered at the surprise party, and assisted in unwrapping and viewing the many useful and pretty gifts, which had been placed in a make believe beauty booth. A delightful lunch was served by the hostess and many friends.

Ira Hewlett returned to Port Coquitlam last Friday, after being his furniture shipped to his new home at Crescent Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. A. L. Clarke, left this week to return to their home in Toronto. Earl Lundin returned to the Coast last week, where his father, M. Lundin, underwent an operation last Friday.

G. Gates was a visitor in Westbank last week. Mr. and Mrs. Gates are making their home in North Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Riley arrived back from their honeymoon last week. They will be residing near the power house. Miss Frances Macklin, of Alert Bay, B.C., is the guest of Mrs. L. A. Hewlett.

Eric Simmonds, who had been visiting his aunt, Mrs. F. H. Griffin, returned to his home in Saskatoon, Sask., last week-end. J. N. Basham accompanied Mr. Olton to his home at the Coast, returning home on Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Williamson, who have spent the summer at the Gellatly Nut Nursery, left last Saturday for Kamloops.

Mrs. E. A. Ahlm, of Vanderhoof, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Gehrig.

NEW PLANS FOR LONDON
The British government is opposing any substantial expansion of industry in London and its vicinity and plans to attract industrialists to other sections of the country, J. G. Dykes, Assistant Canadian Trade Commissioner, reports from London.

In the period between V-J Day and June 30, 1946, he said, approval was granted for the establishment of 1,453 new factories in the United Kingdom at an estimated cost of $249,860,000.

On Friday, September 27th, a luncheon was given in honor of Maj.-Gen. Worthington, G.O.C. Western Command, at the Eldorado Arms Hotel. Invited guests were Maj.-Gen. Keller, Lt. Col. BASIS OF HEALTH

Fruits of living can only come after care is taken of the fundamentals, warn health authorities at Ottawa. The Department of National Health and Welfare reminds Canadians that we cannot live safely until we have ensured health, since life cannot be enjoyed during illness. The department asks everyone to become familiar with the primary rules for health conservation, in order, under the guidance of the medical authorities, to progress to better and happier living.

WASHINGTON—Admiral Ernest J. King demanded today the Senate War Investigation Committee retract its incrimination of him with joint chief of staffs in the 1943 recommendation for completion of Canal project. King was wartime chief of Naval Operations and claims criticism was unjust to him.

FRESH FOODS PREFERRED
Copy the old-timers, say health officials, and eat fresh foods. An authority of nutrition in the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, citing the example of the cave-man, who not only had to work and hunt and fight for his victuals, but usually ate them fresh and sometimes raw, says fresh, natural foods are essential. While prepared, pre-cooked edibles are not harmful in themselves, they must be supplemented by fresh foods for maximum well-being.

Jockey Falls Off Horse Dead After Winning Race

Specially Written for the Courier
By FRED KERNER

One of the most enjoyable features of the racing season is hanging around the tracks in the early morning hours when you get a chance to talk to the trainers, stable boys and the horses. (Do we see a raised eyebrow? It's strictly shop-talk time around the stables.) With purpose in mind, we set out recently to chat with a group of saddle-sitters and directed them on to the topic of whom they considered the greatest guy ever to wear racing silks. The oldtimers and a good proportion of the younger riders were almost unanimous in telling us they would nominate Frankie Hayes.

In pursuit of an ambition, Frankie carved for himself a permanent niche in turf history by literally riding to the last gasp. Even then he refused to give up until the race was won. The story goes back to the winter of 1922-23 when Hayes was an exercise boy. He was a determined lad, and he knew his horseflesh but was too heavy to ride, since he weighed 145. With the promise that if he trimmed his weight he'd have a chance to be a cross-country jockey, he entered a regime that probably would have frightened a Spartan, and never let up for a moment. In the spring, weary and lean, he entered his first steeplechase and finished the grueling event, even though out of the money. He got the chance to ride again this time at Belmont Park. He was to ride Sweet Kiss, an outsider in the two-mile chase. The day was overcast and the track muddy. Sweet Kiss started into a lead and maintained her pace over the difficult assortment of barriers and fences. Beside her, pounded the favorite, Gimme, neither giving an inch.

With what seemed invisible synchronization, both horses leaped over the 10th fence in full view of the huge crowd. The gallant mare, apparently, was pulling away toward Gimme. They touched and then raced toward the final barrier. Many in the crowd noticed something odd in Hayes' posture. He slumped on his mount's neck and held the bridle slackly. At the last fence, Frankie straightened up to bring his animal over in perfect form. Then he fell forward, and Sweet Kiss pulled away and crossed the line first. Hayes neither raised his head nor waved his hand in response to the ovation. Sweet Kiss slowed to a walk. Hayes' finger loosened and he tumbled off into the churned mud.

By the time the doctor got there, he was dead. His fighting heart, weakened by the arduous training, gave out in the exertion of booting home his mount. He was dying of a heart attack when they went over the 10th fence, but he hung on until the last hurdle was cleared.

As sport marches with time, feats are magnified and stories not only are embellished but the fabrications are exaggerated.

For instance when Hank Oana, the baseball pitcher, came to the United States from Hawaii, some enterprising press agent told the newspaper boys Oana was a prince. The story spread and resulted in making Oana a good drawing card, yet the closest he ever got to royalty was riding about himself in the papers.

Down through the years, Leroy (Satchel) Paige, the great Negro pitcher, was said to have acquired his nickname because of his big feet. Actually Paige wears an eight. The Satch disclosed recently that the moniker came from the days when he was a redcap and could carry more valises than other porters.

The longer the story goes around, the more fact and fiction become intertwined to the point where it becomes difficult to distinguish where one stops and the other begins.

DEATH CAST IN BACKGROUND WHEN SPEED BOAT RACERS OPEN THROTTLE

Not being much of an old salt or a guy who'd sleep on a catboat at night to watch the sun come up, we arranged to see Harold Wilson and talk about speedboat racing. For if there's anyone in Canada who knows speedboats, it's the Ingersoll, Ont., racer who owns the famous Miss Canada powerboats.

Harold is reticent when it comes to talking of himself, but he admits he is just as fascinated with driving the powerful craft as are the people who crowd to watch them race. We've seen the little water bugs bouncing and leaping at terrific speed over the waves and it's hazardous, make no mistake about that.

These men put glory ahead of possible death every time they pull out the throttle. But we learned from the Miss Canada driver that while the spectators are awed and impressed by the drama, the wives and sweethearts of the drivers don't feel that way.

A special grandstand used to be set up for these gals, but the women were not interested. They wanted to be at the race pits when the

MORE JAPANESE REPATRIATED

About 550 Japanese who have been living in Canada sailed from Vancouver, Monday, September 23. These people, who have agreed to take up residence in Japan, sailed for Yokohama in the S.S. "Marino Fucien."

As in the case of approximately 3,200 whose repatriation took place recently, those who left on September 23 received free transportation and other assistance from the Canadian Government.

NEW BRITISH DEVELOPMENT IN HIGH-SPEED BUILDING
A new system of high-speed precast building, which enables houses to be completed within one week, has been introduced by a Sheffield, England, engineer-builder. Technique involves the use of moulds of steel casting, cellular concrete sections faced with imitation brick, stone chippings or pebbles—which turn out units like pieces of jigsaw all dovetailed to make a rapid and complete fit. It was first employed in the erection of two experimental houses in Sheffield. It is claimed that by the same system factories can be built in a few weeks and a cinema, seating 1,100 people, in one month.

The Cup itself was won by another Canadian-born driver, orchestra leader Guy Lombardo, who is famed for his fast boats and slow music.

But waiting is really the hard way for the race fan, since few get to race as did Betty Cartstains with her Estelle boats when she risked her neck in the Harnsworth Trophy races against the king of racers, Gar Wood.

Miss Cartstains was a plucky racer and she came back time and again to try and beat Wood. She did achieve one distinction when she finished the 1930 race far behind the American driver to become the first challenger up to that time ever to finish in a race with Wood. Probably the worst spill she ever had was in 1928 when her Estelle II took a nose dive in the swell of a river ferry, went out of control, overturned and sank.

OYAMA DANCE IS SUCCESSFUL

OYAMA — The Oyama Community Club sponsored a dance on Friday, September 27, in the Community Hall. The local orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. A. Beaton Smith, was in attendance and supplied good dancing music. Mrs. G. McClure and Miss Doreen Patterson, H. Butterworth and Ed Gollig, her singing in quartet during some of the dance numbers, and Miss Patterson singing "The Gypsy" as a solo, added greatly to the program. Refreshments were served by members of the Community Club and other helpers. There was a good crowd and over $80 was cleared.

Miss Robin Clerk, of Vernon, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig for an extended time.

Miss Nancy McLaren is home on a visit from Toronto for several weeks.

Doug Duggan left on Friday last for ten days' holiday visiting at Nanaimo and other coast points.

A thanksgiving service will be held in the United Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday next, October 6. It will take the form of a musical service, with Mrs. W. Lee and Miss J. Mitchell as soloists, and H. Aldred as organist.

Sgt. A. Goering, of Vancouver, is spending a week visiting with Mrs. Marj. Purdy and Mr. and Mrs. H. Duggan.

GIVE BABY AIR
If you would save him from many coughs and colds and possibility of other ailments, get baby out into the fresh air as often as possible. Officers of the Child and Maternal Hygiene Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare at Ottawa, warn mothers against leaving little ones in hot, stuffy kitchens, or in rooms where there are several adults. Confinement of infants, they say, makes them pale and irritable, and upsets their feeding. They need as much air as the doctor thinks good for them.

Doings in the Field of Sports

It's Do Or Die For "De Bums" In Today's Crucial Ball Game

Brooklyn Dodgers Meet Cards Today in Second Game of Playoffs

It's do or die for Brooklyn! With their backs against the wall, the Dodgers take on the favored St. Louis Cardinals in the second game of the post-season play-offs to find a winner to represent the Nats in the World Series.

Even before Brooklyn's loss to the Redbirds in the first game Tuesday, the Bums were underdogs. Only thing in their favor now is the local edge in the remaining game or games. It is in Ebbets Field where the series will be won or lost, and the Dodgers, Manager Leo Durocher reminded, rarely lose in Ebbets Field.

Durocher Unpredictable

Kirby Higbe, Ralph Branca and Joe Hatten were Lippy Leo's choice for duty against the Redbirds—his pitch men in separate games or use them all in one. His Unpredictable doings have experts baffled.

Most of the time, both Branca and Higbe were used in the opener Tuesday, but both failed to stop the Cards' 4-2 triumph at St. Louis.

Card manager, Eddie Dyer, called the turn when he put Howie Puckett on the mound Tuesday. With Murray Dickson and Harry Brecheen left for the other one or two games, he's not really worried. On this year than any other two—Dave Durocher and his Dodger Darlings will do next.

But confidence in his Dandies is one of those things which Durocher is sure he can't lose. He is sure that's the way with him. There is no place he'd rather be than at the bottom. From there Leo usually finds a way to get to the top, and first game, on Sunday.

Not only in Boston but everywhere else, the Red Sox are favored to cop the classic largely because they have in Ted Williams and Dom Dimaggio two of the greatest hitters in the game today.

In the infield, Boston offers the game's outstanding second baseman in Bobby Doerr, as well as stocky Johnny Pesky, who finished the league in third place, hitting over .335. Big Rudy York, having a great season at first base, and second only to Ted Williams in runs batted in, is a feared slugger.

If that is not enough, the Beantowners have two pitchers, who between them have won more games this year than any other two—Dave "Boo" Ferris and Tex Hughson.

Williams Hurt

Ted Williams was feared seriously injured on Tuesday when he was struck on the right elbow during an exhibition game. Whether he will be out of the World Series or not is still unknown, here, although play will likely be at the Coast, presumably at Montreal.

If New Westminster emerge winners, they were willing to come here, according to word brought back by two Kelowna players, Terry O'Brien and Earl Curran, from B.C.L.A. in Vancouver, late last week.

NANAIMO — Vancouver Junior Burrards Monday night won the British Columbia Lacrosse Trophy when they defeated Victoria Tili-cums, 17-9, in the final game of the best in three series.

SALE IN REMATCH

NEW YORK — Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano, whose stirring mid-dleweight championship fight at Yankee stadium last Friday night, fans talking, have been signed for a return title engagement at Madison Square Garden, March 21, promoter Mike Jacobs announced Monday.

REFORESTATION PLANS MADE BY B.C. GOVT

VICTORIA — Further expansion of the government's reforestation program is being carried out with the additional planting of 7,000,000 young trees at the B.C. Forest Service nursery near Duncan. These trees will be used in 1948 to replant logged-off areas near Duncan and other island points.

The Green Timbers Nursery, near New Westminster, will have a crop of 4,000,000 trees ready by next February.

These, together with the 7,000,000 trees of the Duncan nursery, will augment the operations of private logging companies. It was announced by the Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests, currently, with this program of reforestation, the forestry department is working to reduce fire hazards on forest lands by clearing trails and constructing new ones so that fire fighters will have greater access to danger areas.

Ontario brewery interests said they anticipate no cut in beer ration of 24 bottles a month if employees are returned.

CREDIT BUREAU WILL PROVIDE NEW SERVICE

Another new business starting in this city is the Credit Bureau of Kelowna, which expects to provide a modern credit service for the merchants and businesses of the district.

The business has been organized by Thomas R. Hill, who has offices in the Casorso Block. Mr. Hill has recently returned to Canada after five years with the auxiliary services, during which time he saw service in Canada, Britain and Northwest Europe.

The credit bureau, Mr. Hill states, is the modern approach to credit and seventy-five such bureaus are now operating in Canada. The credit bureau is no new idea for Mr. Hill, as prior to enlistment he was with the Toronto Credit Bureau and for some years previous to joining that office was with Dunn and Bradstreet.

The new business will be associated with the Associated Credit Bureaus of Canada and will provide detailed verbal and written reports covering the past and present credit record and standing of customers, clients, etc. A collection service on delinquent accounts will also be available and the office will issue informative bulletins covering credit trends, vital statistics and general business procedure.

Mr. Hill is married and his wife is now on route to Kelowna from Toronto.

Day Of Judgment

To Hang: Goering, Jodl, Ribbentrop, Keitel, Frank, Rosenberg, Streicher, Seyss-Inquart, Bormann, Frick, Sauckel, Kaltenbrunner. Imprisonment: Hess, Funk, Raeder, Loh, Schirach, Speer, 20 Years; von Neurath, 15 Years; Doenitz, 10 Years. Acquitted: Schacht, von Papen, Fritzsche

NUERNBERG, Germany—Twelve of the highest Nazi leaders—one of whom has not yet been apprehended—were sentenced to death by hanging during the 50-minute final session of the Nuremberg tribunal Tuesday.

(In Berlin Reuters News Agency announced the Allied Control Council had ruled that the death sentences will be carried out in Nuremberg on October 10).

Three others, including Rudolf Hess, were sentenced to life imprisonment as Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, in a dramatic last-minute announcement, said that the Soviet judge disagreed with the finding in the Hess case and felt he should be sentenced to death.

Soviet Judge Maj. Gen. Iola T. Nikitchenko also disagreed with the acquittals of Hjalmar Schacht, Franz von Papen, and Hans Fritzsche. The findings that the high command and Reich cabinet were not criminal organizations, as such.

The formula of sentencing the 12 was simple in the extreme. In the hushed courtroom, the defendants were brought in one by one. Lord Justice Lawrence read a single sentence.

"On the counts of the indictment on which you have been convicted, the Tribunal sentences you to death by hanging."

That was all. There were no demonstrations. Only Hess still refused to use earphones. He, however, understands English.

For a moment after Goering was brought in it seemed that the otherwise dignified proceedings might be marred. His earphones did not work and he signalled with his hands. They were soon fixed.

GUilty ON ALL FOUR COUNTS—(death by hanging): Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Wilhelm Keitel, Alfred Rosenberg.

GUilty ON THREE COUNTS—(death by hanging): Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Wilhelm Frick.

GUilty ON TWO COUNTS—(death by hanging): Ernest Kaltenbrunner, Hans Frank, Fritz Sauckel.

GUilty ON ONE COUNT—(death by hanging): Julius Streicher.

GUilty ON THREE COUNTS—(life imprisonment): Walther Funk, Erich Raeder.

GUilty ON TWO COUNTS—(life imprisonment): Rudolf Hess.

GUilty ON ONE COUNT—(20 years imprisonment): Baldur von Schirach.

GUilty ON TWO COUNTS—(mitigating circumstances) (20 years): Albert Speer.

GUilty ON FOUR COUNTS—(some mitigation) (15 years): Constantin von Neurath.

GUilty ON TWO COUNTS—(10 years): Karl Doenitz.

accidents amply warrants and justifies the expense of such installations.

In making a study of traffic in lanes, the committee pointed out that it is impossible for a fire truck to go through lanes during business hours. It recommended that the lane immediately north of Bernard Ave. between Mill Ave. and Ellis St. be limited to east-bound traffic only; that the lane immediately south of Bernard Ave. between Ellis and the lane behind the Mayfair Hotel, be limited to west-bound traffic only; that all vehicles stopping or parking in the lanes be required to remain on the right hand side of the lane regardless of whether the destination of the goods being unloaded, or the goods to be loaded, is on the left hand side; that stop signs be erected at the exit ends of the lanes, where they intersect streets, and that "one way" and "no entry" signs be erected where required.

The report stated that during the survey on Bernard Ave., several near accidents were observed as a result of people jaywalking across the streets. Pedestrian lanes, though clearly marked, are not used by a large percentage of people crossing the street. It strongly recommended that during safety week, a campaign should be conducted with a view to educate the public as to dangers of jay-walking; effect of jay-walking on traffic; and the disastrous effect the example of adults persisting in this practice has on children.

Bicycle Offenders
Cyclists were also noticed violating traffic regulations when the survey was conducted. They were found speeding through stop signs; cutting diagonally across intersections; impeding the progress of other vehicles; riding two or more abreast and riding so close to the centre line as to make it difficult for vehicles to pass without swinging far out over the line.

It strongly recommended that the city bylaw allowing bicycles to proceed through stop signs without stopping be repealed and that a bicycle licensing system be instituted to facilitate locating lost machines.

Dealing with school traffic patrols, the report said that the patrol system had only gone into effect this week, and that it is a little too early to observe the effectiveness of the patrols, although it is hoped the new system will overcome accidents. It strongly recommended that the Junior Chamber maintain a liaison with James Logie, high school principal, in helping him in the matter of school boy patrols. The Jaycees are sponsoring the traffic patrol system.

Industrial Traffic
The City Council has a plan for generally improving traffic conditions in Kelowna over a period of the next two or three years. This plan is not ready for publication, but the committee discovered it may be quite comprehensive in that it proposes to deal with such matters as the rerouting of industrial traffic.

Finally, the committee recommended that the bottleneck at the extreme west end of Bernard Ave. be eliminated by the widening of Bernard Ave. opposite the Beach Tea Room, and a space be provided properly surfaced for U-turns.

INQUIRY HEAD NAMED TO PROBE PAPER WALK-OUT

The Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, announced this week that he had appointed the Hon. Mr. Justice S. E. Richards, of the Manitoba Court of Appeal, an Industrial Disputes Inquiry Commissioner to investigate matters in dispute between the Southern Co., Limited, and the International Typographical Union.

A three-man commission, under the chairmanship of Brig. Sherwood Lett, previously appointed to investigate a dispute between the Vancouver Province Division of the Southern Co., Limited, and the Vancouver Local Union of the International Typographical Union, had reported that the dispute at Vancouver was not of local origin but had been caused by an issue which affected other newspapers in Canada and was accordingly national in scope. The Lett commission recommended that the Minister of Labor take steps to bring together the principal officers of the company and the union for the purpose of reconciling their respective policies.

Mr. Justice Richards will confer with the interested parties in an attempt to effect a settlement, he said. Failing a settlement, he will report to the Minister of Labor in which the dispute should be decided within thirty days, setting out his findings.

2 SAYS CANADA

later increase in the price of shock. He said there is hardly a person in Canada today who does not believe trade unionism is a good thing.

"It is a necessity," he declared, "if the Fruit Board can be set up and act as one organization, surely labor can join hands together and speak as one body."

The speaker pointed out that the Trades and Labor Congress, affiliated with the A.F. of L., and the Canadian Congress of Labor, which reflects the policies of the C.I.O., are the two leading trade unions in Canada. They have an equal strength of about 300,000 members each, he said, although official figures are lacking. The Catholic Federation of Labor ranks third with 78,000; Railway Brotherhood, 40,000, while all the smaller unions make up about another 40,000 members.

"So the two big trade unions are the most prominent in Canada, but there is so much cross wiring that it is difficult to get a clear picture," Mr. Stirling declared.

The Federal member dealt at great length with the Hamilton steel strike, explaining what steps were taken by the government to bring about a settlement, and how negotiations had fallen through. He referred to a radio address given by Miss Frances Henderson, controller of the City of Hamilton, who called for an end to "gangster methods" used by picketers.

The speaker was hopeful that the Dominion Provincial conference, which is being called in the near future, will result in a national labor code being drafted instead of every province having a different type of code which exists at present. "If wages were increased to the extent that production of employer suffered, labor would suffer through depleted pay rolls," Mr. Stirling said.

C.N.R. PARTY HERE TUESDAY

Young and B. L. Daly.

ENGINEER POST IMPORTANT ONE SAYS SPEAKER

Democracy calls for elected officers to govern our municipalities, but the actual government is, in fact, controlled by the municipal engineer, O. L. Jones, former mayor and city alderman, told members of the British Columbia Engineering Society at the annual convention held in Kelowna last week.

Mr. Jones pointed out that the post of civic engineer is a highly responsible one, but that Kelowna has been fortunate in having the services of Harry Blakeborough, who has done excellent work during the past quarter of a century.

In dealing with the problem of looking after growing cities, handicapped by unskilled labor and material shortage, Mr. Jones thought the convention should press for the following things:

1. Assessment board for the province (to equalize assessment within towns and to bring uniformity throughout all towns).

2. Standard signals and road signs.

3. A pool of heavy equipment for municipal use, also pumps, etc. that are used occasionally.

4. Compulsory town and country planning.

5. Boulevard maintenance, and house painting, as both affect directly the value of adjacent properties.

6. Removal of all road and other death traps, such as narrow bridges and sharp blind corners.

7. Interchange of ideas through an engineers clearing centre, on such problems as bridges, zoning, housing, map records, sewerage, etc.

8. Uniformity of wage standards within the profession.

He dealt with the Goldenberg Commission and the possible effect on municipal income. Mr. Jones pointed out that the main claim to pointed out that a 50/5

ROLLING STONE
MOOD OF VETS
MAJOR PROBLEM

Rehabilitation Director Has High Praise for Local Committee

Further steps in the re-establishment of veterans were discussed when an official of the Federal Department of Labor, A. E. Rintoul, assistant regional rehabilitation director, Vancouver, conferred with local members of Kelowna and District Rehabilitation Committee, here, on Monday.

In an interview later, Mr. Rintoul admitted with a smile he had "little to say," though he was high in his praise for the work of the local committee.

The problems here were the same as anywhere else in Canada, he said. He had made a study of rehabilitation in Canada, United States and Britain, and in his opinion ours is "head and shoulders" over the others.

"Principal problem facing citizens' committees up to now," he said, "was the 'rolling stone' mood of the veteran. Many just don't want to stay put." Other problems will have to be faced, he went on, mentioning the shortages of materials and the consequent lack of housing.

"Shackles are not the fault of the Government," he defended. "We are not miracle workers. We could be dictators, but that is the very thing we are trying to avoid." He predicted the housing situation would better itself in eight months to a year, as it gets closer to normal.

Rehabilitation of the veteran is a community problem," he declared. He pledged every possible assistance from the government, but, "in the final analysis, the community will have to work it out itself." Rintoul left here on Tuesday for the Kootenays, stopping at Penticton en route.

Rutland was well represented at the rally in the Kelowna Park on Monday for the Kelowna City Scout for the Empire, Lord Rowland. Twenty-five Boy Scouts, under Scoutmaster A. W. Gray, and eleven Wolf Cubs, also twenty-eight Girl Guides and six Brownies, were present. The Scouts, led by Scoutmaster A. K. Bond, and Scout Gillespie, of the 1st Dawson City Troop, both of whom happened to be in the district as visitors at this time. A feature of interest at the luncheon was the presentation of a gold nugget, shaped like a wolf's head, to the Chief Scout from the Dawson City Troop and Pack.

RUTLAND STORE
COMPLETES NEW EXTENSION

RUTLAND — The large addition to the Rutland Hardware & Son, that has been under construction for some time now, has now been opened, and the grocery department has been moved into the new extension. The store is equipped with up-to-date open counters, with the goods fully displayed, after the self serve style.

At present, baskets for this purpose are not yet available, but when they arrive the groceries will be fully equipped and service at this busy emporium will be greatly expedited.

An additional feature of the expansion has been the installation of a cafe, which is to be known as "The Nook," and was opened on Tuesday, October 2, at six o'clock. The cafe is the work of Mr. and Mrs. Len Watt, formerly of Kelowna. This will no doubt soon become a popular gathering place for the young people of the district.

Hardie & Son's old store is undergoing extensive alterations, and when these are completed the hardware and the clothing departments will be located in this part of the building. Construction work has been carried out by Fred Wostrowski, well-known local contractor.

Mervyn Hunter, son of Sam Hunter, left on Tuesday for Vancouver, en route for White Horse, where he will engage in mining.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grummett and daughters, Della, Annabelle, Fay and Judy, left on Sunday for Vancouver to visit friends and relatives, prior to leaving by auto for Eastern Canada. They will take up their residence in Simcoe, Ont. Their property here was sold recently to John Patro, of Vancouver, and it is understood that Mrs. Patro is intending to open a beauty parlor on the premises in the near future. A party was held in the Community Hall on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Annabelle and Miss Fay Grummett, and was attended by a large number of young people.

Work on the new sawmill is progressing more slowly than had been hoped, and has not yet been possible to start the machinery. The boiler is now bricked up, and the smokestack put in position. This is now painted with the name of the society in big letters, and is looking very effective. The lay-off of mill hands was not an "ill wind," as it helped out in a small way with the labor shortage in the orchards, most of the employees finding ready work picking apples.

Dr. Gerard Breton, of Hamilton, Ont., was a visitor last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. McDougall. Miss Hazel McDougall left on Monday for Hamilton, Ont., to resume her post as dietitian in the Hamilton General Hospital. While en route East she will visit her sister, Jean, at the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics Forecast 440,567,000 Bushels of Wheat

The cry of a hungry world for wheat apparently is about to be answered in the crops being harvested throughout Canada. Last week, in its first estimate of grain production, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics forecast a wheat crop for all Canada at 440,567,000 bushels. This compares with the 1945 crop of 305,912,000 bushels and the record 1942 production of 556,684,000 bushels.

The bureau estimated the average yield this year at 17 bushels an acre — one bushel higher than the long-time record — from an estimated acreage of 25,900,000 seeded acres compared with 23,414,000 seeded last year.

The prairies will produce an estimated 420,000,000 bushels of the total grain yield, compared with 282,000,000 a year ago, while Ontario has produced 16,052,000 bushels of fall wheat compared with 20,115,000 in 1945.

Oats, according to the bureau's estimate, will total 411,459,000 bushels this year compared with 381,586,000 last year, barley 164,206,000 against 157,757,000; rye, 7,588,000 against 5,888,000 and flaxseed 8,742,000 against 7,593,000.

While not in the same class as the fabulous 1942 figure, the forecasts were well above Canada's average output at a time when the world was depending on such good fortune.

BOB MURPHY
NOW COLLEGE
FOOTBALL STAR

Former Local Ball Pitcher Reported Playing for Washington

Bob Murphy may not have stood the grandstands on end during the baseball season here, but when it comes to football — well, that is a different matter.

Bob left no doubt in the minds of people here who saw him pitch that he had speed, but with it they saw a measure of wildness that overshadowed the good. But Bob never won a game this year, but it wasn't from lack of trying.

Recklessness came to be a habit with Murphy. And because of it he became famous. Last year, particularly, he was half as much again over all others in his starchy performances for Vancouver College. The way he would throw himself with wild abandon into a game and rip away yard after yard from opposing college squads, made him a hero.

Sought by U.S. Colleges
At the time he was here last summer (he was working for his uncle, Frank Williams, at Windfield) he mentioned that he was contemplating offers of scholarships from Holy Cross and St. Mary's. When he left here late in July, many thought he chose Holy Cross — for both study and football.

But Bob bobbed right back into the headlines, and last week he was all but wrapped up by U.B.C., playing fullback for their first try at American football.

To Play for Huskies
Latest reports are that Murphy has decided to go to the University of Washington, but the report still needed confirmation. It was definitely learned in Vancouver that he had turned in his gear to trainer Johnny Owen.

It appeared that Bob had earlier intentions of going to the University of Washington to play, but changed his mind when he was unable to get an agricultural course at U.W.

A Loss for Thunderbirds
The University of Oregon is also believed to have tried to get Bob, but it was unable to give him the course he wanted. As a result, the husky athlete returned to Vancouver, and was among the more than 8,000 to throng the U.B.C. campus at the opening of the fall term.

He had been turning out with the U.B.C. Thunderbirds and was expected to play a major role in this Saturday's opening conference game against the Willamette Bears.

LOCAL I.O.D.E. CHAPTERS HOLD JOINT MEETING

The two local I.O.D.E. chapters, the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter and the Mary Ellen Boyce Chapter, held a joint dinner meeting on Thursday evening, Sept. 26, at Schell's Grill, when Mrs. M. Martin, provincial president of the I.O.D.E., was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Martin, who recently returned from the National Convention held in Winnipeg, gave fairly detailed reports on the various activities which had been undertaken by the Dominion and Provincial chapters during the past year. She also reported that throughout Canada the I.O.D.E. has 950 chapters with a total membership of 35,000.

The new objective of the I.O.D.E. for the forthcoming year is to raise funds for its War Memorial Scholarship and each chapter throughout the Dominion is responsible for raising a certain set sum. At the present time $20,000 has already been raised. The rules governing applications for this scholarship have not yet been completed.

Mrs. Martin stated that many chapters throughout Canada were adopting rural schools and assisting them greatly in the supplying of books and other essential articles. The speaker also stated that every member must continue to knit and sew for the need is still very great in the European countries as well as elsewhere.

Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, regent of the Dr. Knox Chapter, introduced the speaker, and Mrs. W. Sanborn, Mary Ellen Boyce regent, expressed the thanks of the gathering at the close of the meeting.

HAIR WILL BE WORN

The fashionable woman's hair style this season, according to leading hairdressers, will be the simple and, of course, will require more attention. It will be worn flowing and loose.

ZEST TO FUR FASHIONS

Lush and lovely furs express the feminine post-war feeling for elegance. They contribute in added measure to the new theme of "Let's Dress Up." They will assume more and more importance in the average woman's and girl's wardrobe this autumn and winter. Some silhouettes are spike slender. Others swirl and billow. Watch for the new bag swing, the forward swing in fur fashions.

CARING FOR YOUR NEW FUR COAT

Here are a few pointers on how to do right by the most important and beautiful member of your wardrobe. Some furs, of course, require extra special care and handling, but all furs are subject to certain taboos.

1. Never stroke a fur, but shake vigorously. This is done best by holding it bottom up at the hem. Done after every wearing, it is an amazing beauty treatment.
2. Always place your fur upon a hanger when not in use. Keep in a garment bag in a well ventilated closet of normal temperature.
3. Fur pieces and scarves should be hung by their metal clasps.
4. Furs thrive best in a cool, dark place. Sunlight tends to dry up the natural oil in the pelt rather and fades the original color.
5. Women car drivers should never slide into the car from the opposite side where they intend to sit. Friction between the fur and upholstery is detrimental to the fur and will cause early pelt deterioration.
6. If a fur coat has been exposed to rain, it is best to let it dry in a properly ventilated room, hanging free, away from heat but in a direct air current. When the coat is dry, it should be well shaken before putting away.

They were slightly longer at the hem line than last year.

KNITTING GADGETS We have been hearing for some time about the revolutionary little gadgets which make knitting diamond size a real pleasure, and today we found them in a local shop. They are so simple. It makes you wonder why you couldn't have figured the thing out for yourself. Just a small piece of celluloid with room on each piece to wind enough wool for each color you want to insert in the sock. From now on there won't be anything to whipping up a pair. Best of all, no more hours wasted in untangling snarls.

DISH SHORTAGE HITS BRITAIN

LONDON, ENG. (CP)—A broken dish is a major tragedy in British homes because there may be no replacement for it.

Board of Trade figures show that peace has brought no benefit to the dish-buying householder. In May and June of 1944, 11,000,000 cups, mugs and breakers were produced and 8,700,000 went to the home market. In April and June this year production was 10,200,000 but the home folk got only 7,200,000.

In January and February, 1944, the civilian at home received 4,300,000 of the 7,000,000 saucers and small plates produced; from April to June, 1944, he received only 4,600,000 of 8,200,000. He still gets only about half the large plates produced.

The reception was held at the Westbank Community Hall. The bride's table was decorated with a four-tiered wedding cake and decorated with flowers. Rev. Harrison proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Mrs. J. Ingram, Mrs. A. C. Hoskins, Mrs. E. C. Drought and Mrs. V. Fenton presided at the urns.

TIMELY RECIPES

A SHORT CHAPTER OF A SWEET STORY

Ancient writers used to describe honey as the "nectar of the gods" and Aristotle, the famous Greek philosopher, used even more glowing terms, saying it was "dew distilled from the stars and the rainbow." Western honey at its best, with its delicate flavor, lives up to all these descriptions.

Whatever phrase we employ to describe it, the home economists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture's Consumer Section are still very practical in their approach to the topic of honey. They suggest different ways it may be used to relieve the pressure on the sugar bowl.

Granted one sugar is being substituted for another, but there are some advantages in using honey. It doesn't remain undissolved in the bottom of the cup when used to sweeten beverages as sugar often does. Liquid honey, warmed slightly and drizzled over the morning cereal adds flavor and sweetness. It makes an excellent sweetener for fresh or cooked fruits. For example, mixed with a little cloves or cinnamon it adds a new note to baked pears or apples.

Part of the sugar may be replaced with an equal quantity of honey in baking. Cookies and cakes retain their moisture longer when honey is used, but because of this hygroscopic property of honey, it is its ability to absorb and hold moisture, it should not be stored in the refrigerator or in a damp place. It will absorb moisture and gradually become diluted to the point where spoilage will occur. Honey should be stored covered in a dry place. The pantry shelf is as good a place as any.

If granulated honey should start to ferment, it may be reclaimed by heating slowly over hot water or by setting the container (if water-proof) directly in hot water, until the honey is completely liquefied. Skim and cool as quickly as possible. It is a good idea to give this treatment to any honey which is to be stored in any quantity for a length of time. The recipes for today feature honey, and it is suggested that any one of them would make a nice addition to the Thanksgiving menu.

APPLE SQUASH SCALLOP

4 cups squash cut in 1/2 inch slices
3 medium apples sliced (about 3 cups)
1/2 cup honey
1 tablespoon water
1 cup soft stale bread crumbs
1 tablespoon fat, melted
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Pepper

Place alternate layers of squash and sliced apples in a greased casserole. Drizzle each layer with honey, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add water. Top last layer with crumbs which have been mixed with the melted fat, poultry seasoning, salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes or until squash and apples are tender. Six servings.

SPANISH CREAM

1 tablespoon gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 eggs yolk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons honey (liquid or granulated)
2 egg whites

Soak gelatine in cold water. Add salt to milk and heat in double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly and pour hot milk slowly into them, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, about ten minutes, or until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from heat, add vanilla and gelatine and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Chill until mixture just begins to thicken, then fold in meringue made by beating honey and egg whites together until stiff. Pour into mould rinsed with cold water or lightly greased, and chill until firm. Six servings.

LAKE FRONT AT PEACHLAND IS IMPROVED

PEACHLAND — Part of the lake front has been the scene of great activity during the past week, after Councilor C. O. Whinton, chairman of property committee, started a clean up. Brush and trees were cut down, roots cut up, the grader used to level off the beach.

With the help of some of the more public spirited citizens, brush and trees were burnt up, and planks put around the roots of the remaining trees to make flower boxes. These were painted and made ready to plant next year. This is a great improvement, and it is hoped the rest of the beach will receive the same treatment.

The first young people's service since Rev. H. S. McDonald took charge of the United Church was largely attended Sunday, September 23. The theme of the sermon was, "If I was 21," and covered eight things young people want to know when they are 21.

A girls' choir, trained by Mrs. Z. C. Witt, sang, "I would be true," and Miss Ruth Wilson sang a solo, "Dear Lord Forgive." Mrs. Witt acted as organist. Quarterly communion service will be held Sunday, October 6, at 7:30 p.m. Parents are reminded that Sunday School is held each Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

A rainbow trout was caught and entered in the Peachland Derby by Mrs. S. A. Smalls on Sunday, September 23, weighing 11 pounds, 4 ounces, one-half mile off the wharf, with a Gibbs Martin plug. This fish was weighed in at the Peachland bakery and grocery store.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Caldwell and son left by car Sunday to return to their home, after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. M. Twinn.

Miss Dorothy Dawes left Friday to spend the week-end at her home in Summerland.

Miss Molly Noonan left for Kelowna Friday and spent the week-end at her home there.

GOV'T REPORT AWAITED WITH KEEN INTEREST

Acting Mayor Says Municipalities Can't Do Anything Pending Results of Probe

RELEASE SHORTLY

Municipalities Convention Accomplished Great Deal City Aldermen States

The municipalities will not know where they stand until the report of Carl Goldenberg on provincial-municipal relationships is made public sometime in November, but on the whole the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities accomplished a great deal.

This was the opinion expressed by Acting Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, who headed the city's representatives at the annual party held at Harrison Hot Springs last week. Mr. Goldenberg is now in the midst of drafting his report prior to presenting it to Premier John Hart, and his findings are keenly awaited by municipalities who are anxious to get additional income other than by taxation on the land.

Other civic heads who accompanied Mr. Hughes-Games to the convention were Aldermen Jack Ladd and Jack Horn, and George Dunn, City Clerk. Mrs. Ladd also accompanied her husband.

A resolution favoring daylight saving time received almost unanimous support. Mr. Hughes-Games stated, although some representatives from the Fraser Valley were opposed to the move. Delegates favored uniform time throughout the province, and if possible, Dominion-wide. Resolutions were sent to both the provincial and federal governments.

Superannuation Fund

The acting mayor said the municipalities agreed that present superannuation allowances paid to retired municipal employees need upward revision. The convention avoided committing itself to any fixed increase in contributions until examination has been made of the effect of increasing allowances from $30 to $50.

When an analysis has been made by a special committee appointed, a report will be sent to the executive and each municipal council in the province. It was proposed that municipalities, now contributing seven per cent of payrolls to superannuation fund, pay an additional 1 1/2 per cent. Employees had agreed to make a similar increase in their payments, and the government may be asked to make up any difference, Mr. Hughes-Games pointed out.

Publicity-Shy Health Official Arrives To Take Over New Duties

Dr. G. Lilian Hutton Succeeds Dr. D. B. Avison as Valley Health Unit Director

Being director of a health unit covering an area of several hundred miles, is no easy task for any woman, but Dr. G. Lilian Hutton is probably hoping that the Okanagan's famous fruit will keep the doctor away if people eat "an apple a day."

Dr. Hutton, who succeeds Dr. D. B. Avison as the Okanagan Valley Health Unit's medical health officer, arrived in Kelowna last Wednesday, and will officially take over her new duties this Saturday. But before the doctor assumes her new post, she has a major headache to overcome. She, like hundreds of other people, is looking for a furnished suite, and that is probably the reason she had more important things on her mind when a reporter endeavored to get a detailed account of her career leading up to her recent appointment as health officer.

A woman of retiring disposition—she looks around thirty-five or forty—Dr. Hutton thinks of Vancouver being more her home than Okanagan, where she received her high school and university training.

Yes, it was the first time she has been in the Okanagan—and from what she has seen, it is a beautiful Valley. But Saturday is her big day—the day when she takes over her first position as a medical health officer. Since being discharged from the armed forces, she has been stationed in Victoria with the Provincial Department of Health, although her recent appointment was retroactive to September 1 of this year.

Born in Ontario, Dr. Hutton received her early education in that province, later attending the University of Toronto, where she graduated with a degree in medicine in February, 1935. During the next year, she interned in the Vancouver General Hospital, and in February of this year joined the Army Medical Corps, being stationed in Vancouver. She was in the armed forces only a few months, however, as she later accepted a position with the provincial department of health.

No, she has no major changes in mind, but for the time being will "feel her way around" and visit the various points in the Okanagan.

Youth Dies Following Injuries Sustained At Simpson's Saw Mill

Arthur A. Gabel Suffers Internal Injuries After Being Struck by Board

Internal injuries sustained in an accident at Simpson's Mill about 6:15 p.m. Monday proved fatal to Arthur Albert Gabel, 25, 1803 Ethel, who died in hospital at 4 a.m. yesterday.

A mill employee for the past month, he was working on the night shift as a helper on a core saw in the veneer plant at the time of the accident. According to reports, he was struck across the upper part of his body by a board off the saw, the elbow by the force of the blow. Several blood transfusions were given in hospital. His death was the first caused by accidents at the mill, a mill official declared. An inquest has been set for 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Casorso Block by Coroner T. F. McWilliams.

The deceased came here 18 years ago with his family from Elnora, Sask. He was in the army transport and served in the United Kingdom and Continental Europe, joining up at Number 11 District Depot, Vancouver, on Nov. 18, 1942. He was discharged March 21, 1946. He belonged to the Canadian Legion here, and was a member of the United Church.

Surviving are four brothers: Bill, Fred and Charles, of Kelowna, and Leonard, of Vancouver; and seven sisters: Mrs. L. G. Williams, Kelowna, Mrs. D. Lecheur, Cranberry, Mrs. B. Baker, Regina, Sask., and Mrs. B. Hanson, Mrs. C. Wilkins, Mrs. A. Baerwald, and Mrs. P. Waters, all of Bralorne, B.C. His parents died some years ago.

SEA CADET TAG DAY TO BE HELD THIS SATURDAY

Annual tag day of the Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps will be held on city streets this Saturday, and Sea Cadets will be out in full force. In order to acquaint the public with the activities of the local cadets, the committee has issued a few salient facts about the organization. The Sea Cadet band, which the public has enjoyed hearing at various civic functions, is financed and maintained by the Corps, while the committee also helps to pay for each cadet uniform as well as for various equipment used in training.

Each year every Sea Cadet has the privilege of attending the camp for two weeks during the summer months, and this alone runs into considerable expense. In the past the public has given whole-hearted support to the Sea Cadets, and the committee in charge hope this year will be no exception.

POWER PROJECT CRANE ARRIVES

VICTORIA — A crane for hoisting equipment for the installation at the new power house on the Campbell River power project of the B.C. Power Commission has been delivered. It was announced by Premier John Hart.

Employment has been increased now from 250 men to 335, but more men could be used. However, progress is quite satisfactory despite the labor shortage.

In connection with the transmission line from Nanaimo to Campbell River and Alberni, five lower footings have been completed and thirteen others are in various stages of completion.

In connection with the delay in deliveries, the fabricating contractors state that, although they have approximately 2,000 tons of steel on hand for the contract it will not be possible to make complete structures until from four to six weeks following the termination of the steel strike as certain sizes vital to all structures are included in the tonnage still to be rolled.

The Vivian Company, of Vancouver, who have the contract to supply eighteen diesel units of standard design for various power districts, have approximately 75 per cent of the work to be done in their own shops completed, which is according to schedule. The generators, however, for this equipment are being supplied by the Westinghouse Company, whose production has ceased due to strikes. This will cause a delay in the installation of units in various parts of the province.
